

Dedicated to educating the public about New Jersey law, the New Jersey State Bar Foundation provides a wide variety of free, law-related education services to the public and school community. Our seminars, publications, and Video Loan Library offer information on many legal topics, and our Speakers Bureau fills requests for attorneys to speak to school and community groups.

The Foundation also sponsors school-based initiatives, such as our conflict resolution, peer mediation and character education training programs for educators, and mock trial programs for students in kindergarten through high school. As part of our violence-prevention initiative, the Foundation also offers teasing and bullying training, where teachers and administrators are educated about the myths and facts of bullying, and about developing a school-wide approach to combat the problem. Our legal newspaper for kids, The Legal Eagle, which is geared toward children in grades five through eight, is distributed in more than 2,600 schools across the state; and Respect, a newsletter that focuses on tolerance and diversity, is distributed in more than 1,800 schools.

REGISTRATION AND REFRESHMENTS

WELCOMING REMARKS

Louis H. Miron, Esq.
President
New Jersey State Bar Foundation

INTRODUCTION

Harold B. Garwin, Esq.
President and Executive Director
Community Health Law Project

PLENARY SESSION

The Jersey Shore after Super Storm Sandy: An Effort to Assure Barrier-Free Access and to Rebuild for Accessible Design

What are the requirements, and is the reconstruction accessible? How can you help assure that entry to the beach, amusements, and commercial establishments at the shore are properly designed and constructed?

MODERATOR

David P. Lazarus, Esq., Director of Litigation,
Community Health Law Project

In the wake of Super Storm Sandy, the Jersey Shore in many areas was devastated. In the rebuilding and reconstruction is a unique opportunity to make our coastline communities more secure against future super storms. In addition to the more demanding methods to protect property and lives is the challenge to make one of New Jersey's greatest natural resources truly available to all; to make our shore communities, our beaches, our centers of entertainment, restaurants and coastal waters accessible to disabled residents and visitors alike. With the generous support of Kessler Foundation, CHLP and its partners are seeking to assure accessibility to the shore for everyone. The presentations today by our knowledgeable speakers will address different aspects of this cause.

9:50–11:40 a.m.

Training on Accessibility Requirements

SPEAKER

Jennifer L. Perry, Compliance Specialist, Accessibility Services, United Spinal Association

Ms. Perry conducts training nationwide for architects, code officials, and consumers on access requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Rehabilitation Act, the Fair Housing Act, and the New Jersey Barrier Free Subcode. She will focus her training on requirements for exterior accessible routes of travel (walking surfaces, ramps, accessible parking, etc.) and review the "building blocks" of accessibility that can be applied for those areas that serve beaches, tourist destinations and public accommodations.

11:40–11:50 a.m.

BREAK

11:50 a.m.–12:45 p.m.

Evaluating Accessible Construction and Reconstruction

SPEAKER

Thomas G. Dallessio, AICP/PP, Director, Center for Resilient Design, College of Architecture and Design, New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT)

Students and staff of NJIT inspect and evaluate sites and architectural plans to assess municipalities that are centers of entertainment, beach access and recreation for accessibility for persons with disabilities.

12:45–1:15 p.m.

Legal Aspects of Barrier Free Accessibility and Construction Code Requirements

SPEAKER

Edward A. Kopelson, Esq., Law Office of Edward A. Kopelson

Mr. Kopelson's practice specializes in barrier free access issues, and he is intimately familiar with design requirements, construction codes and state and federal agencies charged with assuring compliance.

1:15–1:30 p.m.

QUESTION AND ANSWER SESSION

CLOSING REMARKS

Harold B. Garwin
